INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS

- Rotary Club of Pasadena is providing free tickets to the Pasadena Symphony Orchestra on May 9 featuring Kaaren Herr-Erickson, Soprano, and Leslie Richards, Mezzo Soprano. See Laura Raab for tickets.

FINANCIAL AID

- Financial Aid awarding is in progress. In order to accomplish it in a timely manner, it will be necessary to limit visits to the financial aid office to certain times weekly instead of following the "open access" method. It is suggested that an appointment made with Betty Means at x. 3832 would be best. Thank you. (Claire Wartenberg)
- Guaranteed Student Loan Program regulations are unlikely to be changed before October 1, 1981. If a student loan is in your future and you are a first-time borrower, we urge you to make application as early as you can for a loan in order to get into the program at this time. The changes may be radical.

IM/SPORTS

- The exciting and challenging job of Sports Commissioner must be filled for next year. If you are interested in this excellent opportunity for ministry among your fellow students and desire more information concerning this stipended position, contact Mark Krone, Box 562. Application deadline: Tuesday, May 12.
- Those who signed up for YMCA memberships in registration need to come pick up their YMCA card in the Sports Office, or send a note to Mark Krone requesting the card. Office hours are 9-12, Tuesday and Thursday and is located on the 3rd floor of the Student Center.
- Found: One jacket, at softball games. To claim, contact Sports Office, Box 562 or x. 3849.
- All members of the Fuller community are invited to participate in the 5 and 10 K run on May 15. See supplement for more information. Trophies to be awarded. Newcomers welcome.
- The tennis ladder is now posted on the IM board.
- A couple of workers are needed for the 5 and 10 K run. Contact Mark Krone, Box 562.

MISCELLANEOUS

- Tapes of Dr. Allan Besak's lectures last week should be available in Audio-Visual. They are "A Political and Theological Analysis of South Africa from a Black Perspective" and "A Black Theology of Liberation." Any problems, contact Al Heystek, Box 533.

INVITATION

All School of Theology graduates are cordially invited to the annual Theology-Graduation Banquet which honors the School of Theology graduates of the Class of 1981. This event will take place on Thursday evening, June 11, 1981, at 6:30 p.m. at the Brookside Clubhouse, 1133 Rosemont Avenue, Pasadena. The graduation fee covers the cost of one banquet ticket per student. Additional tickets may be secured for ten dollars from Anne Demarest. No tickets will be sold at the Clubhouse. Please purchase your tickets in advance from Anne Demarest, Room 203, Slessor Hall, Dean Meye's Office. Tickets are necessary for admission.

SPECIAL NOTICE

The previously announced "early graduation" notice (allowing students who complete degree requirements by the end of the summer to participate in June Commencement ceremonies) does not apply to Ph.D. and D.Min. students who must meet their usual dissertation/thesis deadlines.

THINKING ABOUT CHRISTIAN FORMATION AND DISCIPLESHIP FOR THE FALL?

IT'S TIME TO APPLY NOW
FOR EITHER THE M.A. OR M.DIV. CONCENTRATIONS

Over 50 students have chosen to focus their program at Fuller Seminary through participation in the Christian Formation and Discipleship (CFD) Program.

YOU ARE INVITED TO ATTEND AN

INFORMATIONAL MEETING

10-11 a.m., Friday, May 8th
in the Geneva Room

The CFD faculty will be there to discuss the philosophy of the program, the course offerings for 1981-82, and to answer any questions you have. Please RSVP with Jollene Anderson,
Ext. 3413 (Box 261), if you can attend.

FULLER'S ALUMNI DAY

5k & 10k RUN

FRIDAY, MAY 15, 1981 7:00AM

The theme of this year's Alumni Day is
THE ROLE OF LEISURE IN AN AGE OF ANXIETY.

To start the day's events off there will be a 5 kilometer and 10 kilometer race. Staff faculty members, administrators, and all students are invited to join the alumni in this special event.

Where are you called?

"I might not go into the ministry . . ."

"Can a call be to an M.Div. and not to the professional ministry?"

"How do you know?"

"If you don't go into the ministry, is that a 'lesser call'?"

"What else does someone do with a seminary education?"

MONDAY, MAY 11, 7:30 P.M., PAYTON 101

These are the issues we will be discussing. We will feature Fuller graduates who have wrestled with these questions, and found answers. They will be sharing both the questions, and what they have found.

SPEAKERS INCLUDE:

MEL WHITE: author, film producer faculty professor

JOHN RICHARDSON: Assistant Professor of Business Administration, Pepperdine
University

KEN ROSS: Director, Mission Training and Resource Center

STEVE PATTIE: artist, administrator

MARTY REITZIN: owner/manager, Omega Maintenance

. . . AND OTHERS

SPONSORED BY CAREER DEVELOPMENT; LIBBIE PATTERSON, EXT. 3837.

FULLER THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY

135 North Oakland Avenue, Pasadena, California 91101 / (213) 449-1745 684-2520

To: ALL STUDENTS

Date: April 27, 1981

From: Walt Wright, Provost's Office

Subject: PRE-SEM '81

Each Fall the School of Theology sponsors PRE-SEM, a ten day wilderness trip in the High Sierras. The program is designed to provide an experience of Christian community in the context of a mountaineering trip. This year the trip is scheduled September 9 - 18. No previous backpacking or mountaineering experience is required.

While priority is given to new students enrolling in one of the three schools at Fuller, about half of the participants normally are second and third year students and spouses.

Each group of eight students, accompanied by two wilderness leaders, will face together challenging and rewarding wilderness experiences like:

- Backpacking through the hush of the crisp Fall Sierra
- Climbing a High Sierra peak and watching the sun set into the foothills from your summit camp
- Roping up to climb up, and rappel down, clean granite faces
- Using map and compass to leave the trail and hike cross country
- Spending twenty-four hours in your own private mountain spot for a solo of prayer, meditation and Scripture reading.

Participants will become comfortable with the wilderness. And they will become comfortable with each other as well. They will get to know each other in a way that would take months on campus.

The cost of the ten-day wilderness trip is $285. This includes food, backpacks, rain gear, ropes, and climbing equipment, and professional mountaineering instructors. A limited amount of financial aid is available.

A deposit of $50 will reserve a space for you on the trip this Fall.

If you have any questions about PRE-SEM or this year's trip, feel free to drop by the Provost's Office or put a note in our box.

NEW ARRIVALS IN THE BOOKSTORE include:

- John D. W. Watts, Obadiah (Alpha)--a paperback reprint of Dr. Watts' helpful commentary on the Hebrew text, originally published in 1969.
- Paul W. Clement, C. E. Walker, A. Hedberg and L. Wright, Clinical Procedures for Behavior Therapy (Prentice-Hall)--the authors, including our own Dr. Clement, show how to put recent theories to practical use without trial and error experimentation.
- J. B. Bauer (ed.), Encyclopedia of Biblical Theology: The Complete Sacramentum Verbi (Crossroad)--unavailable for several years, the three-volume encyclopedia is now complete in one volume, representing the work of the most outstanding Catholic biblical scholars.
- Gerald Hughes and Stephen Travis, Harper's Introduction to the Bible (Harper & Row)--a useful handbook for the layperson, full of color pictures and charts, edited by two British evangelicals.
- Antonius H. J. Gunneweg and Walter Schmithals, Achievement, Biblical Encounters Series (Abingdon)--a survey of the biblical teaching on accomplishment, reward-punishment and success-failure.
- Siegfried Herrmann, Time and History, Biblical Encounters Series (Abingdon)--a noted OT scholar reviews the problem of faith and history from a biblical perspective.
- Rhoda A. Hendricks (ed.), Mythologies of the World: A Concise Encyclopedia (McGraw-Hill)--a convenient paperback guide to the various mythological systems of the ancient world.
- Claus Westermann, The Structure of the Book of Job (Fortress)--through a careful form-critical analysis, Westermann asserts that Job is the actual cry of a human being in deep distress, rather than an abstract treatise on the problem of evil.
- Terry A. Armstrong, Douglas L. Busby and Cyril F. Carr, A Reader's Hebrew-English Lexicon of the Old Testament, Vol. 1: Genesis-Deuteronomy (Zondervan)--the Sakae Kubo for the Old Testament, listing by chapter all the words which occur less than fifty times.
- D. Barthelemy et al., Preliminary and Interim Report on the Hebrew Old Testament Text Project, Vol. 5: Ezekiel, Daniel and Twelve Minor Prophets (American Bible Society)--the latest volume of the up-dated textual apparatus for the Biblia Hebraica Stuttgartensia.
- Bazak Guide to Israel, 1981-82 (Harper & Row)--the definitive guide for all those planning trips to the Holy Land this Summer.
- Eduard Lohse, The Formation of the New Testament (Abingdon)--a very concise introduction to the NT by a well-known German scholar, which quickly gets to the heart of issues of canon, authenticity and history of tradition.
- George Wesley Buchanan, Revelation and Redemption: Jewish Documents of Deliverance from the Fall of Jerusalem to the Death of Nahmanides (Western North Carolina Press)--a collection of Jewish documents which the author feels support his thesis that Jewish eschatology was exclusively this-worldly (against J. Weiss, Bultmann, Dodd et al.).
- Edwin Yamauchi, Harper's World of the New Testament (Harper & Row)--the background of NT times is colorfully illustrated for the layperson.
- Thomas Wiedemann, Greek and Roman Slavery (Johns Hopkins)--a translation of the major Greek and Latin texts on the institution of slavery in the Greco-Roman world.
- Keith Hopkins, Conquerors and Slaves (Cambridge)--a classicist and sociologist examines the changing institutions in the Roman world.

Bookstore (Continued)

- J. Severino Croatto, Exodus: A Hermeneutics of Freedom (Orbis)--a professor of OT in Buenos Aires attempts to build a hermeneutical foundation for liberation theology.
- Robert P. Scharlemann, The Being of God: Theology and the Experience of Truth (Seabury)--in the face of today's plurality of religions and philosophical systems and the breakdown of the alliance between biblical theology and Greek ontology, the author tries to analyze the structure inherent in the experience of truth, distinguishing between objective and reflective encounters.
- John F. O'Grady, Models of Jesus (Doubleday)--the various christological portraits offered by theologians today are surveyed, concluding that the Human Face of God is the most comprehensive and appealing.
- Anthony Battaglia, Toward a Reformulation of Natural Law (Seabury)--the usefulness of natural law as an explanatory paradigm of what morality is and how moral judgments are made leads the author to try to resurrect its viability.
- Robert Nowell, A Passion for Truth: Hans Kung and His Theology (Crossroad)--the first comprehensive, up-to-date and eminently readable account of the work and thought of this celebrated and controversial theologian.
- Thomas M. King, Teilhard's Mysticism of Knowing (Seabury)--in an original analysis of Teilhard's thought, the author maintains that Teilhard was not a mystic with scientific achievement but one who in scientific achievement came to have a vision of God.
- Maurice Cowling, Religion and Public Doctrine in Modern England (Cambridge)--the author believes that religion is the central problem in modern English intellectual history and the key to its exposition.
- Benjamin W. Farley (ed.), John Calvin's Sermons on the Ten Commandments (Baker)--Calvin's understanding of the moral law and his socio-economic thought come to expression in this collection of his sermons on the Decalogue.
- Joseph Martos, Doors to the Sacred: A Historical Introduction to Sacraments in the Catholic Church (Doubleday)--without making assumptions about reader's beliefs, this popular study traces the development of the seven Catholic sacraments.
- Paul Oskar Kristeller, Renaissance Thought and Its Sources (Columbia)--a collection of the most significant essays by this eminent Renaissance scholar.
- Rosemary Radford Ruether and Rosemary Skinner Keller (ed.), Women and Religion in America, Vol. 1: The Nineteenth Century: A Documentary History (Harper & Row)--the first comprehensive treatment of the impact and role of women in religion during a century that witnessed an explosion of women's religious movements.
- Janice Moulton and George Robinson, The Organization of Language (Cambridge)--after analyzing current theories, the authors present their own original cognitive model of syntax and language acquisition.
- Vincent Descombes, Modern French Philosophy (Cambridge)--introduces the English-speaking world to the thought of Sartre, Merleau-Ponty, the early structuralists, Deleuze and Lyotard.
- Raymond Boudon, The Crisis in Sociology: Problems of Sociological Epistemology (Columbia)--tries to replace an unsatisfactory epistemology current in sociological thinking today with one that is more philosophically sound.
- J. Bronowski, Magic, Science, and Civilization (Columbia)--in a humane and witty book, the author focuses on a special moment in human history when man ceased to believe in magic and became a scientific animal.
